

Geoff Masel 2026 Prize Recipient Naomi Moore –

Naomi Moore is a final year undergraduate student studying a Bachelor of Laws (LLB, Hons) and Bachelor of Classical Studies at the Australian National University. Within her law degree, Naomi specialises in both International & Comparative Law and Law Reform, Environmental, & Social Justice.

Naomi's paper addresses the need and feasibility of amending the Chicago Convention to create binding obligations on the International Civil Aviation Organization regarding environmental sustainability in international civil aviation. Interest in this topic stemmed for Naomi from an essay written for the International Environmental Law course at ANU and experience as Vice-President and previous Careers Director of the ANU International Law Society and Student Editor at the Yearbook of International Law.

Naomi is currently working as a Legislation Officer in the Domestic Aviation and Reform Division at the Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development, Communications, Sport and the Arts. Additionally, Naomi has recently undertaken a Summer Clerkship at Johnson Winter Slattery, rotating in Environment & Planning and Litigation.
